

Pharmaceutical & Biotech

At MASCO Services we understand that pharmaceutical and biotech companies can be vast, with hundreds of employees and numerous locations. Accordingly, there are often many receptionists devoted exclusively to specific types of inquiries. By using our services, our experienced customer care representatives will route your callers to the appropriate place efficiently and accurately. We also provide telephone support for medical research, equipment support, recalls and can customize our services to meet all of your specific needs.

Contact us today for more information on how MASCO Services can help you achieve your business goals!